Telegraph Companies File Appeal To Slash 25 Cent Minimum

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(UP)—Scattered shut-downs in low-wage industries, a "slowdown protest" in communications, and unsettled demands for exemptions faced administrators of the new wage and hour law today.

Despite these difficulties, Wage-Hour Administrator Elmer F. Andrews was confident that the law, effective since midnight Sunday, would become a national cooperative movement benefitting industry, labor and the public generally.

As the second day of the operation of the Fair Labor standards act began, the following major problems existed throughout the country:

New York

Postal Telegraph company announced the lay-off of 1,000 messengers "to protect the company's financial position." Andrews has not yet ruled on the company's petition to pay messengers less than the 25 cents an hour minimum wage.

Western Union announced compliance with the wage provision, affecting 10,000 messengers, pending Andrews' ruling. American communications association, claiming to represent messengers of both companies, threatened a strike if the wage-hour provisions were not abided by.

San Francisco

The American Communications association ordered a "slowdown protest" by telegraph operators against the Postal company because of alleged "chiseling" under the 44-hour-a-week provision. Union officials said that operators throughout the country were re-

Cady Thanks Those Who Aided Show

City And State To Split Fines From Persons In Traffic Cases

Mayor W. B. Cady asked The Herald, Tuesday, to express his appreciation to those who made the Pumpkin Show such an outstanding success.

"I wish that through their assistance we had a fine show with less rowdiness and very little trouble of any kind. We had to close one side show and order one concession out of the city for gambling. There will be no difficulty of that kind in the future as we will ask for credentials before selling space."

Fines and bonds collected by Mayor Cady during show week amounted to $530.70. In this amount $345.50 was from cases brought before the mayor by the State Highway Patrol. They included largely intoxicated drivers and traffic violations. The city and state divide the fines in the patrol cases. Funds paid to the city must be spent for street repairs, the mayor said.

ORLETON FARMS PREPARING FOR BIG CORN EVENT

LONDON, Oct. 25—(UP)—Madison county prepared today to entertain a crowd of 50,000 at the state corn husking contest on Friday.

Forty county champions will go to work on 255 acres of Iowa 939 hybrid corn in the state contest. There will be 350 acres of automobile parking space for the spectators.

The shock corn contest will begin at 10 a. m. Friday and the standing corn contest an hour later. The winner of the latter contest will be eligible to compete in the national contest in South Dakota, Nov. 3.

The site of the state contest is the 5500-acre Orleton Farms, seven miles north of here, at routes 38 and 29. The farm is owned by Miss E. Johnson of Cincinnati, niece of the late Col. William Cooper Procter. The tract formerly was owned by the late Foster R. Houston of South Charleston, member of the state agriculture board.

FORD PREDICTS BIG INCREASE IN '39'S BUSINESS

DEARBORN, Mich., Oct. 25—(UP)—Edsel Ford predicted today that production at the Ford plant for 1939 will show a 50 percent increase over 1938.

Joining with his father, Henry Ford, in forecasting a long business upturn, he estimated as the company's 1939 line was previewed by the press that output for this year throughout the industry would far exceed that of last year.

"I predict that Ford production will be 50 percent greater than last year," Edsel Ford said. He added that his prediction was a maximum estimation and that the total might not be that high.

Henry Ford, reiterating his back-to-the-farm theory as the solution to business woes, said he believed conditions "definitely are getting better."

"People are becoming tired of 'isms' and experiments," he said. "Times are getting better because people are beginning to realize that agriculture and industry must work hand in hand."

Ford took obvious pride in the five lines of new automobiles displayed at the Ford rotunda. He said they were the "best cars the state pension division."

Italian Sets New Altitude Mark

COL. MARIO PEZZI, Italian army aviator pictured wearing a high-altitude flying suit, has established a new world's record for airplanes, achieving a height of 56,017 feet. He exceeded his own previous record, made in 1937, by 4,656 feet. His ship was a single-engined Caproni with air-conditioned and hermetically sealed cockpit.

Wallace Asks Help For Two-Price Farm System

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25—(UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace sought nation-wide support today for his two-price farm system—a plan to dispose of agricultural surpluses and to enable low income families to purchase "the right kind of food."

In a radio address last night, directed especially toward 90,000,000 city dwellers that they might know the problems of 32,000,000 farmers, Wallace expressed the hope of translating "our agricultural abundance into a better living for all our people."

He emphasized the department of agriculture's proposed plan for a two price system, citing as an example the central distributing stations established in New York where low-income families, unable to buy milk at regular retail prices, may buy at a reduced price.

He proposed that such a system be used for other commodities suffering from "abundance."

Double Benefit Cited

Pointing to the double benefit of such a plan—to producer and to consumer—Wallace said:

"Just as soil erosion if unchecked would threaten the source of our national food supply, so human erosion resulting from lack of nutritious food threatens the future of our race."

"Here, then, is a great potential outlet for our surplus farm production . . . some persons want to solve the farm problem by selling our products cheap to foreigners. Now would it not be better as a general thing to give our own people rather than foreigners the benefit of such bargain prices?"

Using the grapefruit industry, which expects a surplus crop of 10,000,000 boxes, as an example, Wallace asserted that much of this surplus would go to waste unless something unusual is done.

Even if the farmers were willing to give their fruit away, he said, freight and handling charges would make the retail cost approximately five cents each.

STATE AUDITOR WRITES CHECKS WITHOUT MONEY

COLUMBUS, Oct. 25—(UP)—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson today began writing October old age pension checks for full amounts, but with the knowledge that it might be impossible to issue them.

The checks were not signed because there is not enough money in the state treasury to cover them. Ferguson said the checks were being written in the full amounts "on the hope that federal funds will come through before the end of the month."

The federal Social Security board has withheld its 50 percent share of Ohio pension money because of its dispute with Governor Martin L. Davey and the state pension division.

C. OF C. TO OFFER IDEAS FOR FUTURE SUCCESS OF BIG PUMPKIN SHOW

The meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, Tuesday noon, was devoted to a discussion of suggested improvements for the annual Pumpkin Show.

Members will submit suggestions to Mack Parrett, Jr., secretary of the C. of C., within the next 10 days. These suggestions will be given to the Pickaway County Agricultural Society, sponsor of the show, for consideration.

FRONTIER CLASHES BLAMED ON HUNGARIAN TERROR BANDS

PRAGUE, Oct. 25—(UP)—New frontier clashes in which Hungarian terrorists killed, wounded and kidnapped Czechoslovak frontier guards were reported in army dispatches today as the government conferred on settlement of minority demands made by Hungary.

The army dispatches from Ruthenia said one policeman was killed, five were wounded and two were seized and carried across the frontier into Hungary by a band of 50 terrorists near Kosinsky Vrh, in the Slavava district. Terrorists were dressed in civilian clothes and led by Hungarian officers also in civilian clothes, the report said. "They waited in ambush and opened fire on a Czechoslovak patrol as it marched through a ravine. Other terrorists damaged a bridge in the village of Poplazy with a bomb."

Meanwhile, Slovak Premier Josef Tiso arrived to confer with government leaders on Hungary's latest note and army specialists were reported called to the colors.

ELYRIA SHERIFF TO FACE TRIAL ON NOVEMBER 9

ELYRIA, Oct. 25—(UP)—The trial of Sheriff William F. Grall on a bribery indictment returned by the grand jury last week, will start Nov. 9.

The sheriff was held in the county jail here in default of $20,000 bond. He is in custody of Acting Sheriff L. A. Fauver, named last week by Common Pleas Judges Guy B. Findley and D. A. Cook, when Grall reported that he could not raise bond.

Mrs. Maxine Barbour, indicted jointly with the sheriff, has not been located by county officials. Grall was accused of accepting $30 from her for permission to operate a disorderly house.

18 FEARED DEAD IN PLANE CRASH NEAR MELBOURNE

MELBOURNE, Australia, Oct. 25—(UP)—Fourteen passengers and four crew members were believed killed today when an Australian National Airways airliner crashed and burned on a hillside near here.

The bodies of seven thrown clear of the plane were recovered quickly. Rescue workers gave up hope for the others. The plane was an American made Douglas.

MISSING GIRLS FOUND

SEATTLE, Oct. 25—(UP)—Lloyd's agent at Shanghai reported today that the American Dollar liner President Coolidge, which Japanese had held in port, left today for Japan and the United States.

Japanese held the ship because it had aboard $4,500,000 worth of silver collected by Chinese patriots to aid the government. The silver was consigned to the Chase National Bank of New York. In order to prevent further delay the silver was unloaded.

CHUNGKING, China, Oct. 25—(UP)—Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek is at the front west of Hankow with the Chinese army and has decided to fight on, it was announced officially here today at the new emergency capital of the Chinese government.

HANKOW, Oct. 25—(UP)—Japanese troops marched into Hankow late today and began their occupation of the emergency capital of the Chinese government.

They marched in without meeting resistance. The Chinese army had abandoned the city this morning as the Japanese were marching down the last miles of the Yangtze.

Before they abandoned Hankow, the emergency capital and the commercial heart of central China, the Chinese burned or dynamited public buildings and key factories and airports, under their "scorched earth" policy of leaving nothing of military value to the conquerors.

As the Chinese left, a landing party of American bluejackets was ordered ashore to aid in guarding foreigners. Terrorized Chinese were clambering at the barricades of foreign areas as flames advanced through the three sister cities.

The Japanese had been in sight of the city since this morning and their artillery shells had blasted a path for tanks and motorized infantry of the advance guard.

ACTOR, FRIEND HURT IN JUMP TO ESCAPE FIRE

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25—(UP)—Lyle Talbot, screen actor, and Franklin D. Parker, a friend, were injured seriously today when they leaped from the second floor of Talbot's Beverly Hills home to escape from a fire.

The hair was burned from the top of Talbot's head and he suffered other serious burns on his hands, face and arms, according to surgeons at the Beverly Hills police emergency hospital.

Parker, burned about his shoulders, face and arms, suffered adder injuries when he landed on his back in the patio below. Surgeons had not determined the full extent of the man's injuries.

Both men suffered first and second degree burns. Talbot said Parker attended a party at his home last night and remained as his overnight guest. They stayed up late, discussing the movies and the stage, he said. Talbot believed the fire started from a cigarette left in a first floor room. The blaze had gained great headway when discovered.

1928 SALARY SCHEDULE TO BE USED IN SANDUSKY, O.

—The city commission today voted to place police and fire departments back on the 1928 salary schedule, restoring the cut given the men during the depression years.

The restored salaries, effective next year, mean an increase of $11 to $25 a month, according to rank.

SANDUSKY, O. Oct. 25—(UP)

—The husband brought to court, explained that he was paying $17.72 a month on the car and could not afford a family. The judge said he sentenced the man to return the car to the dealer and return himself home. The case was heard privately and the family's name was not disclosed.

Johnson Informed

The Pickaway county board of elections has received notice from Secretary of State William J. Kennedy that enforcement of the law governing absent voters' ballots must be right during the Nov. 8 election. Secretary Kennedy warned that the absent voter's law may be repealed because of its misuse.

Mr. Kennedy, in the letter received by Lawrence J. Johnson, clerk of the board, specifically ordered that persons wishing to cast an absent voter's ballot must apply in person or by mail to their election boards for forms, which must be properly filled out and returned before the ballots are issued.

The state secretary's action was brought about because of alleged misuse of the absent ballot during the last primary in Ohio.

In the recent election campaign workers were furnished with supplies of application blanks for absent voters' ballots, which they distributed to old age pensioners and others. This practice must stop, Secretary Kennedy has informed all the state boards.

Several indictments have been returned in Ohio counties for alleged illegal pressure being brought to force aged and others to support certain candidates. No such charges were filed in Circleville or Pickaway county.

Rotary Offers Second In Series Of Lectures

"The New Day of Inter-American Friendship" will be the lecture subject of Charles D. Hurrey, of New York, who will speak in the Circleville high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the second of a series in the Institute of International Understanding, sponsored by the Circleville Rotary club.

Mr. Hurrey has had opportunity for travel and study far beyond that which is granted to most men. He spent the Winter of 1908 studying in Madrid, Spain, devoting attention chiefly to the Spanish language and history. From the Summer of 1908 to the Summer of 1911 he made his headquarters in Buenos Aires, Argentina representing the International committee of the Y. M. C. A. and charged with the responsibility of visiting the principal cities and exploring the possibility of organizing associations. During this time he made repeated visits to Brazil, Paraguay, Bolivia, Peru, Chile, and Uruguay.

Aided Students

Since 1915 he has served as General secretary of the committee on friendly relations among foreign students. In connection with this responsibility he has spent considerable time traveling abroad, having made eleven trips to Europe and separate trips to the Near East, Australia, and New Zealand, thus having visited more than fifty countries. He was responsible for the publication of the first guide book for foreign students in the U. S. A., and also the first directories of foreign students in America and for the organization and expansion of the work of the Chinese, Japanese, Filipino, and Korean National Christian Associations.

During 1922-23 Mr. Hurrey made a journey around the world, visiting hundreds of former students, who had been in the United States, and attending the meeting of the World Student Christian Federation in Peking, China. Many of the students with whom he has dealt are now leaders in their respective countries and keep up a sympathetic contact with him.

Ability Well Known

Because of his peculiar relationships with world student leaders, and because of his unique travel experiences, he has attained a high distinction in the field of international education and relations. Mr. Hurrey is competent to speak with authority in Institutes of International Understanding and has the ability to present his material interestingly.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU BY BOB BURNS

There's a big movement on foot now to establish a world court where representatives from all countries will meet and decide things fairly and squarely. Some of the nations don't want to go into it.

They're probably like my uncle who was put in jail for stealing a hog. His lawyer called on him in jail and says, "You leave this to me—I'll see that you get justice!" My uncle says, "Now wait a minute—they've got twelve men on the jury that will give me justice. What I want with you is to get me out of here!"

the instruction of approximately 22,000 children. And this is to say nothing of the thousands of other boys and girls in cities and towns whose schooling was paid for with the railway's tax money.

Norfolk and Western taxes are always paid on time. In many communities they are the chief support of local schools.

The railway's tax paying ability depends upon the traffic it gets and how economically it operates. When the railroad loses business to subsidized competitors—competitors who pay little or nothing toward public education—and when laws are passed that increase the cost of railway operation, it means a cut in your school budget, or an increase in your taxes. Therefore, as a matter of good business and local pride, it is to your interest to support the railroad and see that nothing is done to cripple or destroy this industry which contributes so much to the education of your children.

have already been announced for the anniversary show.

Walter Huston this week returned to the Broadway limelight in a new role—that of Peter Stuyvesant in the musical "Knickerbocker Holiday." On the Valley Hour, as the most noteworthy actor of the week, he is the drama headliner.

Vincent Lopez will be interviewed by Rudy and his appearance is particularly fitting for the anniversary show because it was Lopez who gave Rudy his first job in New York as a saxophonist in the Lopez orchestra some twelve years ago.

These two acts with the three comedians who have been favorites with Valley listeners over the years—Holtz, O'Keefe, and Cook—complete the show.

COUNTY STARTS ACTION TOWARD ROAD PROJECT

Bids Asked For Nov. 14
To Improve 70.14 Miles
Under P. W. A.

BIG PROGRAM PLANNED
Most Of Work To Be Done In Spring With Federal Aid

Bids will be received by the county commissioner up to 1:30 p. m. Monday, Nov. 14, for the improvement of 70.14 miles of county roads under the P. W. A. project recently given federal approval.

An allocation of $45,315 was made by the Public Works Administration. Estimated cost of the entire project is $100,700 on which a federal grant of 45 percent was asked.

Bids are to include furnishing delivering and applying materials for surface treatment and 5,000 cubic yards of excavation of berms and ditches.

Preliminary work on the project will be done this fall. Surface treating will be done in the spring.

FORMER COUNTY TEACHER DIES; RITES WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Mrs. Luella Marshall Green, 68, a former resident and school teacher in the vicinity of Circleville who died Sunday night in Mt. Carmel hospital, will be held in Washington C. H. at 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Green was the widow of Lou A. Green. She was employed at the state institution for the feeble minded at Orient for many years.

TAMPERING CHARGED

BUCKYRUS, Oct. 25—(UP)—Gerald W. Probst, 29, of Bucyrus, was held by federal authorities today on a charge of tampering with the mails. He was said to have confessed to Sheriff Albert French and Postmaster Carl Young that he stole from mail he had transported between the postoffice and railroad station last year.

WELL, I'LL TELL YOU BY BOB BURNS

There's a big movement on foot now to establish a world court where representatives from all countries will meet and decide things fairly and squarely. Some of the nations don't want to go into it.

They're probably like my uncle who was put in jail for stealing a hog. His lawyer called on him in jail and says, "You leave this to me—I'll see that you get justice!" My uncle says, "Now wait a minute—they've got twelve men on the jury that will give me justice. What I want with you is to get me out of here!"

COLUMBUS. Oct. 25—(UP)—A new building on the Ohio State university campus to house the state highway department, another at the state fairgrounds to house the department of agriculture and conservation division, and a third to house the health department were proposed in a $13,671,363 construction and repair program worked out today by the Ohio institutional building authority.

Two new reformatories costing $1,000,000 each and housing 1,500 men each were proposed—one to be built near Lebanon, Warren county, and the other at Grafton, Lorain county.

Construction of the reformatories would relieve crowded conditions at Ohio penitentiary, Mansfield reformatory, and London prison farm.

The authority, whose constitutional status is yet to be tested in the courts, has filed with the public works administration a new construction program totaling $11,029,000, on which a $4,963,050 grant is asked, and a $2,642,363 remodeling and repair program, on which a $1,189,063 grant is asked.

P. W. A. Aid Asked

The program has been forwarded to P. W. A. in Washington.

The authority was created at a special legislative session which empowered it to build state buildings and retire its bonds, to be sold to P. W. A., from rentals.

The authority proposed a $250,000 health department building on a site not yet selected. The proposed highway department building also would house the state highway patrol, the bureau of motor vehicles, and the highway testing laboratory. The building would cost $400,000.

The department of agriculture building would cost $250,000. Other new buildings on the state fairgrounds would include a $200,000 horse barn, and a $100,000 aquarium and conservation building. Another $100,000 would be spent for fairgrounds improvements and $25,000 for a new entrance.

The program also calls for these expenditures:

Cleveland state hospital—Convalescent buildings for men and women, to house 100 patients each, $150,000 each.

Hawthornden state hospital—Administration building, $300,000; recreation hall, $100,000, four new cottages to house 600, $900,000; laundry and shop additions, $111,083; sewage disposal plant addition, $50,000; power plant and heat tunnel additions, $100,000.

Columbus state hospital—Receiving hospital for examination and classification of patients, $200,000; remodeling main buildings, $400,000; addition to women's wing, $200,000.

Columbus institution for feeble-minded—Storeroom and attendants' quarters, $250,000; fireproofing dormitories, $250,000.

Longview state hospital—New convalescent cottages, $400,000; receiving hospital addition, $100,000.

Apple creek feeble minded institution—Four new cottages to house 200 patients each, $800,000; new administration building and recreation hall, $235,185; power house and heat tunnel additions, $100,000.

Dayton state hospital—Remodeling main building, $400,000.

Massillon state hospital—Three new cottages to house 150 patients each, $500,000.

Toledo state hospital—New convalescent building for men, $200,000; new receiving building, $300,000; new power house and equipment, $250,000.

Gallipolis epileptics hospital—Administration building, $200,000; two cottages, $200,000; remodeling three cottages, $200,000; remodeling hospital, $100,000.

Sandusky soldiers' and sailors' home—Two cottages, $100,000; power plant, $150,000.

Xenia soldiers and sailors orphans' home—New school building, $200,000; farm buildings, $25,000.

"Mary's Other Husband" Provides Many Laughs

"Mary's Other Husband," the three act comedy given Monday night in the Circleville high school auditorium by the Glen Wells players, was entertainment of a type seldom presented before Circleville audiences.

It kept a medium-sized crowd intensely interested in its unusual situation and provided laughs from the opening of the first act until the close of the performance.

The play, written by Larry E. Johnson, was the concluding number on the Festival series of four entertainments sponsored by the Circleville Kiwanis club for its underprivileged children fund.

The story concerned the efforts of Mary Marshall to placate her Uncle Elmer and live up to some of the imaginative tales she had written about the financial position of her husband and herself. Mary had eloped with a young clerk against the wishes of her uncle.

Many amusing situations develop as plans are made to entertain the uncle. Mary borrows silverware and other furnishings from her neighbor. Her husband is forced to act the role of a butler. A friend of her husband plays the role of Mary's husband during the uncle's visit. Clearing up the situation, complicated by theft of the neighbor's silverware and disappearance of the Marshall baby, provides scores of laughs.

Mary had forgotten she had sent a picture of her husband to her uncle and he knew the entire situation was farce.

The board of directors of the club has under consideration the possibility of sponsoring another series of the entertainments next year. All presented this season were outstanding.

newsreel shot, Gable was to be catapulted into a mud puddle.

Gable followed orders of Jack Conway, the director, and fell in the mud, but he forgot to close his eyes. For two days his eyes pained him before the last particle was removed.

Through the second week of the picture, Gable and Myrna Loy worked continuously in fog in front of wind machines for night sequences. For this Gable received three days in bed with a light attack of influenza.

AT THE CIRCLE

A narrow gauge railroad which formerly served the gold camps of early California and is still in use, makes its screen debut in "North of the Rio Grande," latest of the popular "Hopalong" Cassidy outdoor action stories, opening today at the Circle Theatre.

The antiquated rolling stock, consisting of several coaches, combination baggage cars and wood-burning locomotive, are of the 1880 period. The cast of "North of the Rio Grande" is headed by William Boyd, and includes George Hayes, Russell Hayden, Stephen Morris and Bernadene Hayes.

AT THE GRAND

The Grand Theatre brings to Circleville one of the year's most outstanding stage shows featuring that well known movie star Mickey Daniels, star of over a hundred "Our Gang" comedies, and his "Hollywood on Parade" revue.

The cast contains 25 people including some of the world's most beautiful girls in a fast moving musical show. This will be a real treat to the theatre goers of Circleville and vicinity.

Included on the same bill is a screen attraction of unusual merit, the Jones family in "Love on a Budget."

AT THE CLIFTONA

"Too Hot to Handle," current attraction at the Cliftona Theatre, may be the title of the picture, but in reality Clark Gable's role in it was almost too hot to handle.

Gable's first mishap occurred during the first week of filming. A section of ruined Shanghai had been created on a back lot and during an air raid, while making a scene, a bomb exploded.

Then—make its long-continued action last even longer, spread a thick layer of VapoRub on the chest and cover with a warmed cloth.

LONG AFTER sleep comes, VapoRub keeps working—loosens phlegm—eases muscular soreness or tightness—clears air-passages—eases coughing—relieves local congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

MASTERLY DUNKING

"DUNKING" seems to be developing into a social shibboleth, and between the dunkers and non-dunkers there is little hope of agreement. The only chance for reconciliation lies in the area of furtive dunkers, midway between the utterly shameless and the offensively righteous.

The limit in shamelessness seems to be reached by a fellow a newspaper man observed in a restaurant the other day. He picked up a thick slice of bread, sunk it deep in his coffee cup and proceeded to engulf it audibly, with every indication of extreme enjoyment. Also pride. He had performed a miracle of absorption. One dunk of the bread, and the full coffee cup was emptied. "He dunked with a tinge of pride and exhibitionism," says the observer. He even looked around for appreciation.

That is going too far. Such a professional and prideful maneuver might possibly be excused if it were a doughnut, but bread-dunking is different. There is no poetry or art about dunked bread.

The narrator may be right, too, when he suggests that as long as this matter remains controversial, a devotee might tactfully ask, "Do you mind if I dunk?" We can hardly wait to try that at the lunch counter around the corner.

FEW CRAZY GENIUSES

DR. E. M. EAST, Harvard professor and authority on genetics, takes exception to the notion that every genius is necessarily a little "mad". In a recent article in the Journal of Heredity, he writes.

"We ordinary people realize that we are not geniuses, and we invent a reason for not making the grade that is soothing to our egos. Our nervous systems are sound and healthy. We are mediocrities because we are well-balanced and do things like other people."

Dr. East has studied the lives of a group of men listed as "geniuses having symptoms of insanity" and found only one of them mentally defective. They may have been unconventional and eccentric, but they were not in any way insane.

"One may conclude," he says, "that mental aberrations of certain types are not absolutely incompatible with genius, but also that a hospital for the insane is not a good place to search for supermen."

All this may be soothing to the egos of geniuses, but it probably won't change the popular view greatly. It seems to involve definitions of insanity, of genius, of eccentricity, and various other words which most people use loosely.

The present ideal in automobiles seems to be a car that looks as if it's going when it's standing still, and feels as if it's standing still when it's going.

PAGES from the Diary of An Antiquated Reporter:

Up to find the ville clear of all Pumpkin Show signs. But much talk remains, including expressed desire for a fairgrounds and annual county fair. Personally, I much prefer the Pumpkin Show. Anyway, a fairground is entirely too expensive for us now.

Ours is supposed to be a Pumpkin Show, yet thousands of persons attend the event each year without ever seeing a pumpkin. What is wrong with the idea of making the pumpkin the king of our show? Build a great pyramid of pumpkins at Court and Main street, place the largest pumpkins atop the pile, decorate the whole with red and yellow corn, illuminate it at night with floodlights atop nearby buildings.

We had one of the finest flower exhibits of all time this year, yet thousands failed to see it. Why not bring the home products, the flowers and grain up into the center of the show? Exhibit them on stands radiating from the pumpkin pyramid? Give everyone a chance to see them.

Our parades this year were not up to the usual standard because of the almost entire absence of floats. Why not offer the kind of prizes that will assure floats. Require their participation in all parades, and then award the prizes for the best floats on the last day of the show. And while speaking of increased prizes, farmers tell me that the prizes offered in the pumpkin division are not enough to warrant a display of any considerable importance. Why not increase the prizes there, too?

All in all, the show this year was a good one, but it can be improved. It has to be improved if we are to continue drawing big crowds to the city. Seems to me that the event is taking on too much the aspect of a street carnival. Street carnivals just do not last, as anyone familiar with them can give assurance. We have more than a carnival.

Another criticism of the show is that we have entirely too many eating places. I, too, think that is true. Why not keep out the professional hot dog and sandwich men and award these concessions to none other than county organizations? All the food and soft drink requirements of the annual throngs can be taken care of locally.

This comment is not intended in the nature of criticism of the show just ended, but as an idea toward possibly improving the show next year and giving the people of the city and county a break over the outsiders. I always lean toward such an idea.

Tuesday at noon the Chamber of Commerce meets to discuss Pumpkin Show plans for next year. It is likely that out of the session will come some definite recommendations. And while every person in the city is interested in the success of the Pumpkin Show, it is safe to predict that the meeting will be attended by fewer than a score of men. All the others will remain critically on the sidelines. That's no way to win.

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON AND ROBERT S. ALLEN,

CASH-AND-CARRY NEUTRALITY

WASHINGTON — When that shaggy-maned bell-wether of the Senate, William Edgar Borah, comes out for revision of the Neutrality Act, you can get a pretty good idea what Congress will do about it next session. Here is Borah's very positive comment:

"In the present state of the world, the cash and carry provisions, if continued, mean that Great Britain, Japan and Germany would be the chief beneficiaries of our Neutrality Act. I am emphatically opposed to that."

"If the policy of surrender established by Great Britain at Munich continues, the cash and carry provisions would favor no one but the militarist states."

Administration strategists are working on plans for neutrality revision, would like either to junk the entire act or else give the executive more discretion. Probably it will be the former.

WAR TRAINING

It is not supposed to be known yet, but as a further answer to Hitler's rearmament, Harry Hopkins' WPA is about to tackle one of the most serious weaknesses of the national defense — lack of trained technicians and mechanics.

The plan results from a confidential report to the President by Assistant War Secretary Louis Johnson that the Army was short 20,000 mechanics, and needed a system of training technicians annually as reserves.

He pointed out that "squads right" and "shoulder arms" was not as important to the modern soldier as being able to repair a truck and unjam a machine gun.

As a result, WPA's National Youth Administration soon will begin the training of mechanics as Army reserves. The NYA already conducts mechanical schools for unemployed youths, and these will be expanded and developed.

Graduates of these schools will have the chance of enlisting in the Army as non-commissioned officers, or of entering private vaccine industry as Army reserve mechanics.

GOPoor

GOPers are not saying anything about it publicly, but under the solace of a highball they will tell you that they are puzzled and disheartened at the difficulty of raising money for the national Republican war chest.

Lots of money is rolling into state and county campaigns, but getting the dough to meet the payroll at Republican National headquarters in Washington is like passing the hat among apple salesmen. GOP strategists give three reasons for this lack of lucre:

1. The money donors are not sold on Chairman John Hamilton, and a little dubious about the ideas of Brain Trust chief Glenn Frank.

2. They complain that "the National Committee has no other policy other than 'We are against Roosevelt.'" They want some new policies as well as new leadership.

3. They would rather place their money in key States where they are sure it will do some good, rather than have it eaten up by the lush salaries of Chairman Hamilton and publicity director Franklyn Waltman.

The present ideal in automobiles seems to be a car that looks as if it's going when it's standing still, and feels as if it's standing still when it's going.

DIET AND HEALTH

How the Body Utilizes Fat

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

FAT IS found so universally distributed in foodstuffs that it would be next to impossible to eliminate it from the balanced diet. But it is possible that if we could do so, we would be better off.

Fat can be converted into energy, in which its role in nutrition is similar to the carbohydrates—starches and sugar.

It also takes its place as part of the tissues of the body, in which its role in nutrition is similar to the proteins—animal foods. Some of the very important structures of the body, such as the nerve sheaths, have fat as a necessary part of their composition.

Wet Gunpowder

As an energy producer, fat is sluggish compared to the sugars. It has been described as wet gunpowder. But it is a good source of potential energy, and our fat deposits are the first ones called on when there is starvation, or when the food intake is for some reason diminished.

The fat stores in the body are mostly those immediately under the skin, especially the abdomen, the buttocks, under the arms and breasts, and around the face.

It has been estimated that the fat in the body is distributed as follows:

Under the skin, 50 per cent.

Inside the abdomen, 13 per cent.

Around other organs (kidneys, heart), 12 per cent.

Gaiety of Life

Fat contributes much to the gaiety of life. Most of the pleasures of the table are due to the use of fats—gravies, sauces, whipped cream, salad dressings. A medical friend of mine gave me a graphic illustration of this. He had a gallbladder operation, and for a while all of his bile drained outside his body and none entered his intestines. It is well-known that fats are not digested except in the presence of bile. He told me of the dark melancholy that oppressed him in those days, and rhapsodically he described his joy when the bile began to go through into the intestine and he was once more digesting his fats.

This is the real keynote to the two extremes of fat nutrition—underweight and obesity. The overweight is usually an epicure; he likes fat in his food and fat is the food which best produces fat. For most overweights, the remedy is simple and obvious, if they will only take it. There may be an endocrine factor in some cases, but very few.

The underweight is somewhat more complicated; he may have a chronic disease, such as tuberculosis. Barring that, it is likely he does not enjoy the good things of the table and has little appetite.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

A REAL FINE ART

DEFENSIVE UNBLOCKING, to prevent yourself being thrown into the lead, is a real fine art. It requires foresight in the ability to infer what the declarer is trying to do. It also calls for courage to count upon your partner's being able to win the trick which otherwise was yours. No prettier defensive plays are ever seen than these, which involve tossing away an honor that apparently is destined to be a winner.

South next tackled the club suit with the idea of throwing West in with the third round. Depending again on his partner, West threw the club Q on the second round. This fooled South, who figured that West had no more clubs. Declarer then used a heart to throw in West, who stunned South when he came through with another club. East won the trick with his J and cashed two hearts.

MASTERLY DUNKING

"DUNKING" seems to be developing into a social shibboleth, and between the dunkers and non-dunkers there is little hope of agreement. The only chance for reconciliation lies in the area of furtive dunkers, midway between the utterly shameless and the offensively righteous.

The limit in shamelessness seems to be reached by a fellow a newspaper man observed in a restaurant the other day. He picked up a thick slice of bread, sunk it deep in his coffee cup and proceeded to engulf it audibly, with every indication of extreme enjoyment. Also pride. He had performed a miracle of absorption. One dunk of the bread, and the full coffee cup was emptied. "He dunked with a tinge of pride and exhibitionism," says the observer. He even looked around for appreciation.

That is going too far. Such a professional and prideful maneuver might possibly be excused if it were a doughnut, but bread-dunking is different. There is no poetry or art about dunked bread.

The narrator may be right, too, when he suggests that as long as this matter remains controversial, a devotee might tactfully ask, "Do you mind if I dunk?" We can hardly wait to try that at the lunch counter around the corner.

FEW CRAZY GENIUSES

DR. E. M. EAST, Harvard professor and authority on genetics, takes exception to the notion that every genius is necessarily a little "mad". In a recent article in the Journal of Heredity, he writes.

"We ordinary people realize that we are not geniuses, and we invent a reason for not making the grade that is sooths to our egos. Our nervous systems are sound and healthy. We are mediocrities because we are well-balanced and do things like other people."

Dr. East has studied the lives of a group of men listed as "geniuses having symptoms of insanity" and found only one of them mentally defective. They may have been unconventional and eccentric, but they were not in any way insane.

"One may conclude," he says, "that mental aberrations of certain types are not absolutely incompatible with genius, but also that a hospital for the insane is not a good place to search for supermen."

That's all that was needed. The sign itself said "Come in". And the pretty girl had said it. Curiosity already was at high pitch. The group swarmed into the cottage quietly, speaking in interested undertones.

"How do you do—all of you?"

Mother Davis' manner was almost benign. Past middle age, this mellowed soul could show calm and genuine friendliness.

Again came a chorus of polite answers.

Sara Sue had followed them in, of course, and felt now that she simply must take charge, despite her stage fright. She swallowed hard, blushed and pitched in.

"I want to welcome you again," she began. "Won't you find seats?"

Anywhere. I have put in a great many chairs, and a lot of extra cushions. Just sit on the floor if the chairs run out.

"Now, perhaps I'd better offer to answer any questions. You read the Thresher announcement. Does anyone—anyone want to inquire further about the plan?"

"Is it really a date bureau?"

"Can we have parties here?"

"Can you find a sweetheart?"

The questions came in a flood, some serious, many in humorous vein. Sara Sue bit her lip, and kept smiling. Bob Towne was staring at her still, and she noticed that she didn't mind, but his gaze was so rapacious.

"Maybe I'd better tell you all about it," Sara Sue resumed.

"No, I'm not going to run an escort bureau, or a gigolo service, or anything like that. But I have planned—"

"Pardon me," Bob Towne broke in, "but you say I. Will you be one of the assistants or something?"

"No, I'm—I'm the corporation. I am Sara Sue Davis, OH, I am so sorry I overlooked introductions! Please forgive me. Will—will each

O. E. S. Grand Chapter Sessions Are Under Way

Circleville And County Members Attending

The 49th annual session of grand chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, opened at Columbus auditorium, Tuesday, with Miss Jessie Naomi Peck of Fostoria, worthy grand matron, presiding. The meeting will continue through Thursday, and many social events are planned for the entertainment and pleasure of the 5,000 visitors expected at the sessions.

Other elective grand officers, well known in Circleville, who will be present for the meetings are Oliver D. Everhard, Barberston, worthy grand patron; Mrs. Mary Wollerman, Toledo, associate grand matron; Chester J. Pearce, Bellefontaine, associate grand patron; Mrs. Bessie F. Boice, Columbus, grand secretary; Mrs. Hazel H. Beach, London, grand treasurer; Miss Gladys Thomas, Niles, grand conductress; Mrs. Fairy Gingery, Columbus, associate grand conductress. Among the past grand officers present will be Miss Marie L. Hamilton, Circleville, junior past grand matron; C. C. Chappelar, Circleville, past grand patron.

Miss Virginia Marion, worthy matron of Circleville chapter, and Mrs. Harry Smith, worthy matron of the Williamsport chapter, will represent their chapters as delegates.

Many social affairs have been planned to honor the grand officers and worthy grand matron, the most outstanding of which is the grand ball, Wednesday at 10 p.m. at Masonic Temple.

Members of Circleville chapter will be present at many of the various sessions and social affairs. Miss Marion and Mrs. Smith will remain during the entire conference.

Among the guests from Circleville will be Mrs. E. S. Neuding, Miss Lucille Neuding, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mrs. I. W. Kinsey, Mrs. Myron T. Johnson, Mrs. George Valentine, Miss Bertha Valentine, Mrs. Ella Hornbeck, Mrs. Ralph Ward, Mrs. Thomas McManamy, Mrs. C. D. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Chappelar, Miss Hamilton, Mr. Hamilton, Mrs. Clarence McAbey, Mrs. C. E. Hill, Mrs. Smith of the Williamsport chapter, Mrs. W. I. Spangler of Tarlton and Mrs. Leroy Hammack of Darbyville.

Willing Workers' Class

The Willing Workers' class of the Pontius United Brethren church will meet Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Metzler of E. Franklin street. A covered dish lunch will be served.

Monday Club

Division of Music, Monday Club, will present the program at the regular session, Monday, in the Library Trustees' room, Memorial Hall. Mrs. D. Adrain Yates is chairman of the division.

Mrs. Ray W. Davis will present a paper, "The Evolution of Music from the Classical School through the Ultra-Modern". Descriptive music will be furnished by Mrs. Paul Teegardin, Mrs. Melvin Yates, Miss Eleanor Snyder, the Monday club trio and the Monday club chorus.

Evangelical Societies to Meet

The Dorcas Pathfinder class and the Ladies' Aid society of the Evangelical church will have a joint meeting beginning with a covered dish supper, Friday, at 7 o'clock in the church basement.

M. E. Senior Bible Class

The Senior Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church will have a Halloween party and social session of the class, Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the parlors of the church.

Club Meets in Columbus

Mrs. Lester Coate, Maynard avenue, Columbus, entertained a three table bridge club of Circleville of which she is a member, Monday evening, at her home. Two additional guests, Mrs. E. I. Gephart of Ashtabula and Mrs. P. D. Sadler of Columbus, were asked for the evening.

Public Health League Seal Theme Disclosed

"Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis" is the theme of the 1938 Christmas Seal, which will go on sale throughout the country on Thanksgiving Day. The Pickaway county Public Health league directs the work locally. The seal, which is issued by the National Tuberculosis Association and distributed by its 1,528 affiliated organizations, shows an interior of a room with a draped window as the background. On the windowsill stands a Christmas candle which a mother is lighting while her two children stand beside her looking on.

In the upper left corner is the date "1938" inscribed on white and across the bottom are the words, "Health Greetings", in brown, flanked by two red double-barred crosses, symbol of the anti-tuberculosis campaign. The blending has been done with four colors—red, brown, green and black.

Portraits Included

In each sheet of 100 seals, there are placed in the four corners portraits of men closely associated with the fight against tuberculosis. In the upper left corner, there is a portrait of Dr. Rene Laennec of France, who evolved the principle of the stethoscope in 1819; in the upper right corner is Dr. Robert Koch of Germany, who discovered in 1882 the germ that causes tuberculosis—the tubercle bacillus; in the lower left is Dr. Edward L. Trudeau, who built the first permanent sanatorium in the United States in 1885; and in the lower right is Einar Holboell, Danish postal clerk, who started in Denmark the first sale of Christmas Seals in 1904.

The seal was designed by Lloyd Coe, artist who received his education in art at the National Academy of Design and at the Metropolitan Art School, New York. He studied with the famous painter, George Pearce Ennis. His landscapes have received recognition.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Do not be alarmed at pile shedding, which happens to all new rugs at first. It's just a temporary condition. Sweep gently for the first two or three weeks until the wool has regained its natural amount of moisture.

Remember that dirt and grit, unless removed, will work down into the back of a rug, and with continual grinding will soon cut the threads and thus wear it out.

Whether you use a vacuum or a broom or carpet sweeper, your floor covering must be clean.

Electric cleaners and carpet sweepers are especially recommended for pile surface rugs and carpets. Do not beat or clean with stiff brushes. If a corn broom is used, the sweeping should be done lightly. And never sweep against the pile.

Instead of a small table, try placing of a good-looking magazine racks beside your most comfortable armchair. As a catch all for newspapers, magazines and folders of all kinds, it helps to keep the living room wearing that well-groomed look.

Public Health League Seal Theme Disclosed

"Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis" is the theme of the 1938 Christmas Seal, which will go on sale throughout the country on Thanksgiving Day. The Pickaway county Public Health league directs the work locally. The seal, which is issued by the National Tuberculosis Association and distributed by its 1,528 affiliated organizations, shows an interior of a room with a draped window as the background. On the windowsill stands a Christmas candle.

COUNTY POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS PREPARING FOR NOV. 8 ELECTION

PICKREL TALKS AT DEMOCRATIC RALLY FRIDAY

Former Lieutenant Governor And Fred Elsass Join To Provide Program

REPUBLICANS TO GATHER

Four Districts To Ballot On Special Issues; Local Option Considered

Pickaway county's election front, quiet in recent weeks while the European war situation and annual Pumpkin Show held the spotlight, was due for some bombardments this week as both parties lined up campaign meetings.

First of a series of four Republican meetings will be held in the New Holland town hall at 8 p.m. Tuesday, with John Silbaugh, Lancaster attorney, as principal speaker. James N. Linton, Columbus attorney and state central committeeman, will be principal speaker at a meeting in Memorial hall Thursday, Oct. 27. Music will be furnished by the Franklin County Republican Glee club. C. C. Crabb, former attorney general, will speak at a meeting in Derby on Nov. 1. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium. Last of the meetings will be held in the Monroe township school, Nov. 3, with Samuel Forney, Columbus, as speaker.

Democrats Meet Friday
Pickaway county Democrats will hold a rally in Memorial hall Friday, Oct. 28. Speakers obtained to date are William G. Pickrel, Dayton, former lieutenant governor and candidate for governor four years ago, and Fred Elsass, Columbus, clerk of the house of representatives, who is in charge of the agriculture committee in the Sawyer campaign. The meeting will start promptly at 7:45 o'clock as Mr. Pickrel is scheduled to speak in Lancaster after the Circleville meeting.

Another rally will be held by the Democrats in Memorial hall on Nov. 4. Speakers for this meeting have not been announced.

Only four Pickaway county districts will vote on special issues in their districts Nov. 8. Three mill levies for school operation expenses will be for a vote in the Tarlton and Muhlenberg school districts. Williamsport village and Deer Creek township will vote on local option.

Three ballots will be received by voters, the regular party ticket, the judicial ticket, and the proposed amendment concerning the appointment of supreme court judges.

The slight interest in the election is clearly indicated by the issuance of absent voters' ballots. The ballots have been available since Oct. 10 and only 20 have been issued.

Issuance of ballots for disabled voters started Monday. The first requests were received Tuesday. Final day for making application for both the absent and disabled ballots is Nov. 4.

San Antonio, Tex.

More than 15,000 workers reported to have lost their jobs as result of shut-downs in pecan shelling and garment industries. All 60 plants of pecan industry closed; between 2,500 and 5,000 garment workers reported idle.

Owners of pecan shelling companies contend that they do not earn enough to meet the 25 cents an hour minimum wage.

Shelling plants in other Texas cities were expected to follow the example of San Antonio owners.

The industry employs between 30,000 and 50,000 workers in the state.

Greenville, N. C.

Heads of independent and exporting tobacco companies estimated that 30,000 Negroes, mostly women, will lose jobs permanently; predicted that between 50,000,000 and 75,000,000 pounds of flue-cured tobacco, now stemmed in the United States, would be stemmed abroad as result of 25 cents an hour minimum wage.

Exporters predicted increase in use of stemming machines, now used widely by domestic companies.

Tobacco workers already out of work in eastern North Carolina were estimated as follows: Greenville, 1,200; Wilson, 1,100; Oxford, 500; Kinston, 1,200; Rocky Mount, 1,400. It was reported that an additional 1,500 would lose their jobs today.

Bricker charges that state employees were being solicited for Sawyer's campaign fund and said that on Oct. 14 Edwin Oberholtz, chairman of the Summit county Democratic executive committee, demanded at the Summit county office of the state employment service that a one percent levy be placed on each employee's wages.

He also charged that Sawyer's headquarters telephone a "select list of corporations which have been doing business with the state" and demanded contributions. Sen. Robert J. Bulkley and his Republican opponent, Robert A. Taft, were scheduled to appear for their fourth debate in the senatorial campaign at Youngstown tonight for arguments on the question "The Advancement of Labor Under the New Deal." The topic was again chosen by Bulkley.
